BRIGHT LIGHTS FADE AWAY

Brilliant City of a Day at Buffalo Grows Dark and Deserted.

LOSS REACHES THREE MILLION DOLLARS

Deficit Will Rest Lightly on Myriad Shoulders—Commissioners Drop Twelve Per Cent Following Assassination.

BUFFALO, Nov. 2.—The Pan-American exposition ended at 12 o'clock tonight. At midnight President John G. Millburn pressed an electric button and lights in the famous electric tower grew dim for the last time. Slowly one by one the lights on post and pinnacle and tower faded away. A corps of buglers standing in the tower sounded " taps " and one of the greater glories of the exposition, the electrical illumination, passed away and the exposition was ended.

The exposition has not been a financial success, but it is believed the benefits derived from it will be of great value to the commercial interests of the country. The primary object of the exposition was to advance the friendly relations and commercial intercourse between the United States and other countries of the two Americas. In this respect it has been a decided success.

The financial loss will be in the neighborhood of $3,000,000. The statement to be issued by the officers of the exposition setting forth the expenditures and receipts will be made public sometime this month. Until then the company will make no formal statement. The loss will fall upon the holders of the common stock, the holders of second mortgage bonds, and the contractors who erected the buildings.

Loss Evenly Distributed. Two hundred and ten thousand shares of common stock were sold at $10 a share. The stock was subscribed for by the citizens of Buffalo and the Niagara frontier in small lots of from one share to 100, so that the loss will not be seriously felt by anyone.

No complaint has been heard from the holders of common stock, who appreciate the benefit the exposition has been to the city. There is also a feeling of satisfaction that the enterprise was carried to a successful end by the citizens of this country without state or federal aid. The mortgage bonds amounting to $2,500,000, will be paid in full. An issue of $500,000 of second mortgage bonds is unprovided for, but the revenue from salvage on the buildings and from other sources will probably cover a part of this indebtedness. The balance due contractors is not definitely known, but it is said it represents their profits for the work done and no one will be seriously embarrassed by the loss.

Eight Million Admissions. The total number of admissions for the six months was close to 8,000,000. An average of 2,000,000 a month had been figured on by the exposition officials. The great snowstorm of last April was a severe blow to the exposition. An immense amount of work was undone and work on the grounds and buildings was delayed for a week. Strenuous efforts were made to make up the lost time, but on May 1 a vast amount of work remained undone and the formal opening of the exposition was postponed until May 20.

The lamentable tragedy in the Temple of Music, which robbed the nation of a beloved president, was another blow to the Pan-American. The attendance had been increasing steadily up to the date of the assassination of President McKinley. The gates were closed for two days and when they reopened there was a drop of 12 per cent in the attendance and no improvement followed.

The government exhibit, which is a beautiful and instructive collection, will be at once shipped to Charleston, S. C.

There was a veritable riot on the Midway this evening. The disorder started from a quarrel between an intoxicated man and a waiter. The crowd took the part of the stranger and wrecked the place, smashing chairs, tables and windows. A stream of

Catarrh

The cause exists in the blood, in what causes inflammation of the mucous membrane.

It is therefore impossible to cure the disease by local applications. It is positively dangerous to neglect it, because it always affects the stomach and deranges the general health, and is likely to develop into consumption.

Many have been radically and permanently cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses the blood and has a peculiar alterative and tonic effect. R. Long, California Junction, Iowa, writes: "I had catarrh three years, lost my appetite and could not sleep. My head pained me and I felt bad all over. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and now have a good appetite, sleep well, and have no symptoms of catarrh."

Hood's Sarsaparilla Promises to cure and keeps the promise. It is better not to put off treatment—buy Hood's today.

EDWARD S. STOKES IS DEAD

Slayer of Fisk Succumbs After Period of Falling Health.

SPECTACULAR FIGURE PLAYED STAR PART

Duel of Two Enemies in Business and Society Attracted National Attention and Ended in Tragedy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Edward S. Stokes died today at the home of his sister, Mrs. McNeill. Succumbing to a severe attack which came while he was traveling in Canada, Stokes had for some time been in failing health. He was very low ten days ago, but rallied, only to sink again. He began failing last night and his strength slowly ebbed away to the end this afternoon.

The name of Edward S. Stokes was inseparably connected with the tragic killing of James Fisk, Jr., who was shot by him in 1872, after a famous quarrel, involving large financial interests and the favor of Josie Mansfield, a beautiful Californian. Stokes was born in Philadelphia on April 27, 1841. He was educated in Pennsylvania and was famous as a sportsman and athlete in his college days. He came to New York in 1869 and organized the firm of Budlong & Stokes, which quickly won attention for its bold and successful operations on the Produce exchange. The firm dissolved in 1865 and Stokes began the erection of the Brooklyn oil refinery. It was while organizing the project that Stokes met Fisk, whom he shot later.

Revered in oil and a fire at his refinery ruined Stokes, but when he emerged from bankruptcy he formed another company and rebuilt the refinery. With Fisk, Jay Gould and the others who operated the Erie railroad, he made an agreement as to rail rates that proved lucrative. After a few years of close intimacy Stokes and Fisk quarreled.

Josie Mansfield, the beautiful Californian whose death was so closely linked to Stokes, was at the time of the shooting of Fisk and there was a belief that Fisk resented Stokes' attention to her. Stokes always asserted that Fisk tried to ruin him by manipulating oil rates on the Erie railroad. The quarrel was carried into Wall street, where the men matched their skill and nerve.

Reconciliation is Feinting.

In 1871 Stokes was arrested on the charge that he had embezzled $50,000 from the oil company. The charge was eventually disproved and Fisk and Stokes were for a time reconciled. Then followed a final break, which culminated in the shooting of Fisk. Josie Mansfield left Fisk and passed under the protection of Stokes. Litigation was resumed between the two men, who made charges and countercharges of a startling nature as to financial transactions. Threats of personal violence were exchanged and their meetings were not unattended. They met on the stairway of the old Grand Central hotel, now the Broadway Central, in January, 1872, and Stokes shot Fisk.

Fisk fired upon Stokes, who returned the shot. Stokes gave himself up a few minutes after the shooting. He was detained in the Tombs and had three trials. The first resulted in a disagreement and the second in conviction for murder in the first degree. Stokes was sentenced to be hanged. He was given another trial and was convicted of manslaughter in the third degree. He was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Self-Defense is Claimed.

Stokes' defense for killing Fisk was that he had shot in self-defense, after Fisk had drawn a revolver from his pocket. There was some evidence to bear this out, though it was vigorously contradicted. Stokes was given another trial and was restored to citizenship by President Cleveland. He then again embarked in business and became interested in the Hoffman house and the case was fought in the law courts for several years. He finally sold his interest and during his last few years of life was not in business. Stokes was a man of splendid personal appearance and at the high tide of his power had a large personal following. While in prison he met the late Rich Croker and John Scannel, who were awaiting trial on charges similar to his own, and the trio formed a friendship which lasted to the end.

In the closing days of the life of Stokes a woman who gave the name of Rosamond Friday advanced the claim that she was married to him.

WILL GET OUT A FULL VOTE

This is the Only Work Left to Be Done by Nebraska Republicans—State Committee Confident.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—Chairman Lindsay of the republican state central committee declared tonight that there could be no question as to the success of the republican ticket in the election of Tuesday. The work of the committee practically ended today. Monday the instructions will be given to the party workers over the state and from that time until the polls close all efforts will be directed toward getting out the full party vote.

Chairman Lindsay will cast his vote in Pawnee City Tuesday morning, but will return to Lincoln and receive the returns here in the evening.

"The conditions are just as favorable for the republicans' victory as they were the Saturday before election last year, and I am positive we will elect our ticket," said Mr. Lindsay tonight. "The majority will be as large as that given our candidates last year, and it will probably be much larger. Reports from all sections of the state are favorable. In fact, everything upon which we can base an estimate is encouraging for the republican candidates."

Mr. Lindsay said to Mr. E. H. Healy, who was able to determine the opposition of the Liquor Dealers' association was having little or no effect upon the strength of Judge Sedgwick, as by the thinking people the action of that association would be considered as an endorsement by the liquor element of the fusion candidate, Judge Holbenck.

Following their usual custom, the fusion campaign managers have begun to make extravagant claims. Chairman DeLoach of the populist committee says Holbenck will be elected by from 12,000 to 15,000 votes and Vice Chairman Scott of the democratic committee makes a similar claim.

The registration in Lincoln has been until now very much on a half-or-half basis. A bad weather kept many of the voters at home today and it is feared that as a result the vote on election day will be much smaller than usual. In this county the fusionists are making a desperate effort to elect their candidates for treasurer and register of deeds. For the latter office the chances are about even and it is generally conceded that the republican candidates for all other offices will be elected by majorities of from 500 to 1,500, depending upon the size of the total vote.

Chairman Adams of the Lancaster county republican central committee says the entire county ticket will be elected. The opposition claims a victory for William Augustus and L. A. Anderson, fusion candidates for treasurer and register respectively.

STATE'S CASE IS ALL IN

Callahan's Lawyers Again Move for Dismissal Before Proceeding with Witnesses.

James Callahan's attorneys have moved to have the primary case against their client dismissed on the ground that he is being tried twice for the same offense. Judge Keyser has taken the motion under consideration until Monday morning. County Attorney Shields and the attorneys for Callahan spent much of yesterday arguing the motion for dismissal. The prosecuting attorney insisted that the crime of perjury, for which Callahan is now being tried, is entirely separate and distinct from the charge of robbery on which he was formerly convicted.

The state finished taking testimony in the Callahan case Friday afternoon. The attorneys for the defendant were not ready to introduce testimony yesterday, but will call their witnesses Monday, in case Judge Keyser overrules their motion for dismissal.
